New York Stock Market

New York, N. Y., July 26 .- Forced liquidation of stocks, while banking and financial interests refrained from offering support, played havoc with stock market values to-day. So rapid offering support, played havoc with stock market values to-day. So rapid and comprehensive a shrinkage of prices is witnessed rarely except in periods of absolute panie. There was some selling to-day by holders through sheer fright at the rapid meliting away of values, but for the most part the selling was done in cold blood and with the systematic determination of a surgical operation.

The lack of immediate news which might be held to indicate sudden and violent change in conditions affecting values, pointed to an action of influences to account for the movement. The absence of the usual talk of embarrassments on such occasions was taken to prove the selling to come from sources outside the immediate stock market circle, and to represent losses from large resources, which amounted to impairment rather, than wiping out of fortunes. There was every indication to warrant the assumption that some heavy speculative accounts were in process of closing out, while, at the same time, a thorough housecleaning was going on amongst the lenders of money on collateral looking to the weeding out of undestrable loans.

Occurrences in the immediate news were disregarded. The United States Steel quarterly meeting to be held after the market closed almost dropped out of the consideration.

The declaration of the fegular quarterly dividend was takensor stranted, and the probable showing of the earnings' report was discussed with only languid interest, as likely to through the column of the carnings' report was discussed with only languid interest, as likely to through the column of the carnings' report was discussed with only languid interest, as likely to through the carnings' report was discussed with only languid interest, as likely to through the carnings' report was discussed with only languid interest, as likely to through the carnings' report was discussed with only languid interest.

OCTION MARKETS.

New York, July 26,—The cotton market was unsettled to-day as a result of old crop inquidation, and prices have ruled generally lower with the close barely steady at a not feeline of $621 points. The opening was steady at a decline of 1951 to an advance of 4 points, the new crop being relatively ready on cables and the continued hot, dry weather in the Southwest. Late positions received good support after the opening. but the old crop was heavy under some scattered selling of July, which was believed to be against light arrivals at New Frye Will Not Retire. Lewiston, Me., July 26.—The family of Senator William P. Frye to-day stated that there was no truth in a published report that he intended to retire from the Senate because of ill health. The Senator is enjoying good health, and has been greatly annoyed it is stated, by many inquiries which have been addressed to him during the past forty-eight hours.
